Support Every Moment

We believe that nurturing environments are essential to the human experience, especially during times of significant life transitions. Every interaction, from patient care to clinician support, should be thoughtfully designed to prioritize the physical, emotional, and cognitive well-being of its occupants, fostering comfort, safety, and a sense of belonging.

Collaborating for Better Care

We collaborated with Brian Graham and Von Robinson to create products that enhance those experiences. Their innovative approaches align perfectly with our focus on supporting every moment for patients, care partners, and clinicians. Together, we've designed solutions that bring comfort and support to every moment of care.

A Space for Healing, Not Just Recovery

In the patient room, the Ellie Recliner combines gentle curves and a welcoming design to intuitively support patients, caregivers, and clinicians. Paired with the Ethan bedside table with poof, they create an environment that enhances cognitive, physical, and emotional well-being, supporting every moment of care.

Support for Extended Care

The infusion room should offer comfort and calm for long treatments. Ellie, with its embrace back and comfortable seat, helps patients feel at ease. Paired with the Ethan bench and storage, offering practical storage and a soothing aesthetic, these products create an inviting, supportive environment throughout treatment.

Nurture Their Entire Journey

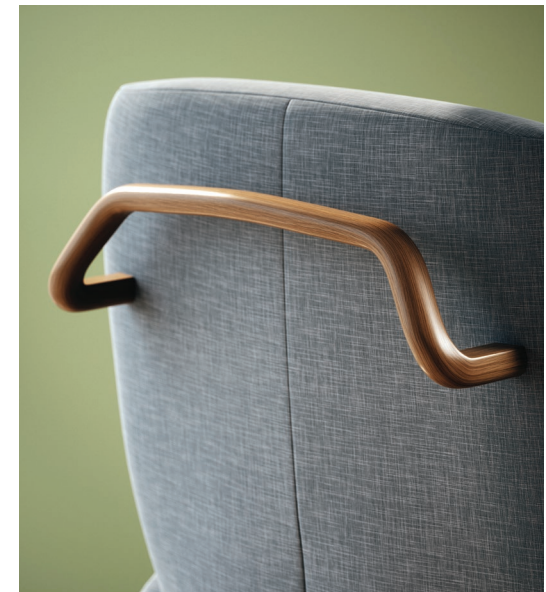

The exam room should provide a space where care flows naturally, with a balance of function and comfort for patients and clinicians alike. The Ellie Recliner offers a supportive and welcoming seat for patients, while also ensuring ease of movement for care partners and clinicians. Paired with the Ethan Casegoods Collection, which offers purposeful storage and a minimalist aesthetic, these products work together to support every interaction in the exam room.

Ellie Recliner

Embracing Comfort in Every Moment

The Ellie Recliner is designed to deliver comfort, support, and foster dignity for patients, caregivers, and clinicians alike. With its signature embrace back and gentle curves, Ellie offers a welcoming touch to any healthcare space. Whether during long treatments or brief interactions, Ellie's thoughtful design encourages relaxation and mobility, making it an essential part of any care environment focused on well-being.

Ethan Collection

Harmony in Every Moment

The Ethan Collection provides versatile solutions, designed to offer support along the continuum of care. A minimalist design featuring clean lines and soft edges, Ethan is crafted to create a calming atmosphere. The collection offers both storage and seating options, delivering the functionality and comfort needed in healthcare spaces.

Innovation in Every Moment – Protea™

The Protea flower, known for its resilience and beauty, symbolizes transformation and strength. This inspiration is the foundation for Protea, our innovative non-porous material. Like the flower, Protea stands up to the toughest environments while maintaining its elegance and durability, making it ideal for healthcare spaces.

Protea is designed to meet the unique challenges of healthcare environments, outperforming traditional surfaces like wood and metal. Its moisture-impervious properties ensure it withstands rigorous daily cleaning without losing its finish, helping healthcare providers maintain clean and safe spaces.

From the arms, side levers, and push bars of the Ellie Recliner to the surfaces of the Ethan Casegoods Collection, Protea delivers long-term performance. This durable material reduces maintenance costs and supports infection control, keeping healthcare environments functional, clean, and welcoming.

In 1984, founder David Horwitz set out to redefine patient-centric furniture. Inspired by the resilience of bamboo, Kwalu became synonymous with strength and durability.

Today, we remain dedicated to designing furniture that prioritizes both aesthetics and longevity. Protea™, our award-winning, non-porous material, combines the look of wood with superior durability and easy cleaning, meeting the demands of high-traffic environments in healthcare and senior living.

At Kwalu, we create nurturing environments that inspire care, comfort, and connection in healthcare and senior living.
