Ethan Collection – Designed by Brian Graham

The Ethan Collection offers bedside poufs, mobile storage, and casegoods that support the evolving needs of patients, families, and care teams. Clean, modern lines and familiar forms create a reassuring presence, while Protea™ Fusion ensures the durability and performance healthcare demands.

“With Ethan, the intent was to introduce new archetypes into healthcare. The forms are familiar by design, creating reassurance in spaces that are often stressful, while expanding how the space can truly support care.”

– Brian Graham

Every element in a resident room should work together to create a space that is both functional and inviting. Thoughtful placement of furniture enhances accessibility, while a cohesive material palette fosters a sense of comfort and familiarity. The right furnishings not only support daily routines but also contribute to an environment where residents feel at home.
