Ellie Collection – Designed by Von Robinson

Guided by neuroaesthetic and biophilic design, the Ellie Collection draws on the natural forces of flow and erosion to bring a sense of calm and familiarity to healthcare environments. Designed for the patient room, the recliner, sleeper sofa, and cantilever table work together to create a more responsive and restorative space. From the supportive posture of the recliner to the sleeper’s overnight comfort and the table’s accessible reach, each piece reflects a single intent—to make moments of care feel more natural, connected, and human.

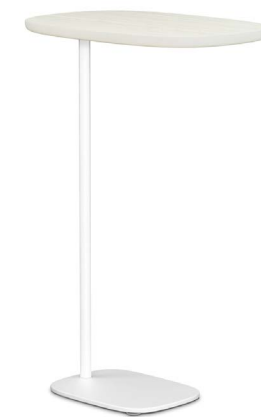

“Curves help healing, and Ellie’s forms are intentionally soft—reinforcing the idea that beauty and function are not at odds, but essential to care. With Ellie, I set out to provide a safe haven—one that supports rest and connection for patients and care partners alike.”
