You walk through the lobby and it feels familiar—less like an entry point, more like a place you've chosen to be. The kind of space that recalls a favorite hotel or a trip you still think about years later.

A mix of seating, a place to grab coffee or sit with a drink, and room to linger without expectation. Hospitality-inspired spaces like these give senior living communities something traditional layouts can't—places where people naturally gather, cross paths, and spend time together without needing a reason.

Bistro, café, and lounge settings are reshaping how communities feel and function throughout the day.

LANO DINING CHAIR

Structured. Architectural. Composed.

The Lano Dining Chair features a tall back and tapered legs that create a clean, architectural silhouette. Layered upholstery and a curved upper panel bring dimension to the back, while Protea™ delivers the warmth of wood with long-term durability and the ability to withstand routine cleaning.

Designed to Adapt

Camber brings a lighter, adaptable seating option to senior living spaces. Compact proportions, slim arms, and a softly curved back shape the design, with an exposed Protea™ back panel that maintains material continuity across the frame. It transitions easily between dining rooms, cafés, activity spaces, and gaming areas.

Softly Sculpted

The Keaton Collection features a Protea™ base that wraps and embraces the top, with softened edges that give the table a lighter, more contemporary feel. Compact in scale, it offers top options in Protea Fusion or solid surface, allowing the base and top to contrast or coordinate. Available as end and coffee tables.

A Study in Form

The Jensen Collection features a sculptural open base with soft interior curves that create a lighter visual footprint. A consistent 1-inch thickness across the top and base keeps the proportions balanced, while top options in Protea™ Fusion or solid surface allow the base and top to contrast or coordinate. Available as end and coffee tables.

Framed with Intention

The Nashville Credenza carries the collection's contemporary character into a larger storage piece, defined by its mitered face frame and clean, tailored lines. Crafted with Protea™ Fusion, it captures the warmth of wood grain while offering long-term durability, with solid surface top options available for added performance and material contrast. Designed for dining rooms and shared common areas.

30 Years Later: A Story from Bonaire

The chairs once sat at The Green Parrot, a waterfront restaurant on the island of Bonaire.

Even after years in the Caribbean climate — and more than a few unplanned trips into the sea — this chairs' frame remained solid.

The Green Parrot operated until 1999, when a powerful swell from Hurricane Lenny damaged the restaurant beyond repair. The owners eventually retired, but the chairs outlasted the business they were purchased for.

The restaurant is gone, but the chairs continued on — quietly doing their job. Today, more than 30 years later, many are still in use across Bonaire.

At Kwalu, we create nurturing environments that inspire care, comfort, and connection in healthcare and senior living.

For over 40 years, we've crafted high-quality, durable furniture that enhances the spaces where people live, heal, and build community. What sets us apart is Protea™, our proprietary, non-porous material that offers the beauty of wood with unmatched durability. Inspired by the resilient Protea flower, it ensures our furniture withstands high-traffic environments while remaining easy to clean and maintain.
